Coronavirus (COVID-19) Emergency Response/Decontamination and Remediation Services

As the number of Coronavirus (COVID-19) cases continue to rise, companies are looking for comprehensive environmental solutions to minimize risk to their business, their employees and the general public. With strategic locations throughout California and Nevada, Patriot Environmental Services can safely and securely disinfect virus-infected sites, and properly manage hazardous and infectious waste streams 24/7/365.

Patriot offers turnkey emergency response services performed by our experts who are trained in accordance with OSHA standards and infectious disease cleanup protocol. Our personnel routinely perform similar emergency response and decontamination services for many of our customers, and are experienced with cleanup operations of any size.
