

Portland Wastewater Transportation and Treatment Services

Turnkey Support That's Compliant, Efficient and Cost-Effective

Even non-hazardous wastewater and sludge require proper disposal. With Patriot, you get the sound treatment options you need, all while staying on-time and within budget. Just as important, knowing that our wastewater treatment and disposal services fully meet the most rigorous safety and compliance standards delivers peace of mind.

Patriot Environmental Services has the experience and expertise to collect, transport and treat your non-hazardous wastewater and sludge waste safely and cost-effectively. Because we operate our own state-of-the-art facility and maintain extensive rolling stock, we can transport and treat ongoing waste streams, stormwater and project-generated waste in the most efficient way possible.

Simplifying Complex Environmental Regulations

We make it easy for you to profile your waste online, and can help you successfully navigate even the most complex of environmental regulations. We'll evaluate your waste stream and provide you with multiple transport and disposal options, the best way for your company to control costs and make an informed decision about wastewater management protocols.

Expert Management of Liquids, Mud and Sludge Waste

Our Portland, Oregon facility can process up to 50 million gallons of wastewater a year through a state-of-the-art treatment system that includes an onsite laboratory and solid separation technology for waste streams with substantial suspended sediment. In addition, we maintain a fleet of tanker, barrel and hydro excavation trucks that provide transportation services to any client that requires cradle-to-grave management of their waste streams.
